PEARL VALLEY CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS RESULTS

The annual Pearl Valley Club Championships were held this past weekend. The players were treated to a beautifully manicured golf course with slick greens and strategically placed pin placements.

The weather on the first day was a bit cool and overcast which allowed for good scoring. Dylan Kanye and Alessia Goussard took charge in their respective A-divisions, while Barry Lodewyk led the B-division and Jutta Oelhrich finished on top in the Ladies B-division.

Day 2 presented a little more excitement with three players separated by a single shot in the Mens A-division. The weather was favourable as the heat firmed up the course and gave the golfers a little more of an advantage.

In the end, the Mens A-division title was settled on the 3rd play-off hole, with Liam Millard making a tricky breaking putt for victory. Alessia Goussard finished strong and defended her 2021 title; Barry Lodewyk took the B-division honours, and Beverly Pienaar claimed victory in the Ladies B-division.

The golf data, golf events, golf operations, and food and beverage teams organised an exceptional showcase weekend for all participants.

A special thank you to our generous sponsors: Christel Swart from Luxury Property Harcourts, and sculptor artists Jaco Kruger and Lize Jonck who provided the players with great gifts.

PUTTING TIPS TO HELP LOWER YOUR SCORES

How to perfect your impact when putting?

We are aiming to get the ball from a point on or just off the green into the hole. If it does not finish in the hole, we want it to finish as close as possible to the hole.

To do this your putting technique needs to achieve the following:

1. Start the ball as close as possible to the intended target line.
2. Control the pace of the ball as it leaves the clubface.
3. Strike the ball consistently in the middle of the clubface.
4. Be able to repeat this technique under pressure.

Let's go into more detail on how to work on your start line and put it to the test:

The putter face at impact has 5 times more effect on the start line than your path. Yours is to build a putting stroke that makes it easy to consistently start the ball on your intended target line.

If the ball starts 1 degree off its target line, it will be about 5cm wide of the target line by the time it reaches 3m and if you it a 2 degree error it will be even further offline.

Therefore it is impossible to hole putts consistently inside 3m if you cannot hit a target that is 2 feet in front of you.

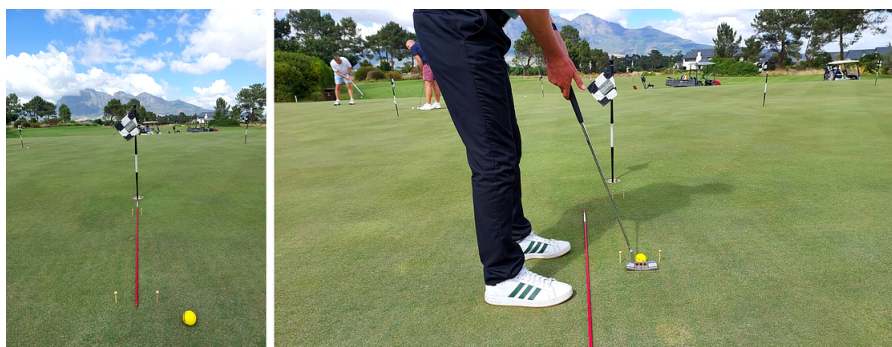

Here is a nice and easy drill to help you work on it:

Create a goal with two tees about 2 feet in front of you. Try to hit the putt making sure the ball rolls through the goals. If you hit the tee on the right or left it will give you feedback if you pulling or pushing the putts.

Try to hole as many as you can in a row.
